

Porsches on display at the Bay

Exotic cars will be on display at the Porsche Show at Wigley Reserve, Glenelg, from 10am on Sunday March 7.

Feature vehicles on show will include:

THE recently launched Panamera four-door luxury Sports Sedan

THE Factory-built Porsche Cayenne Trans Siberian, modified and built for the Trans Siberian Rally and driven by an Australian crew.

THE winning Porsche 911 from the Panama to Alaska Marathon Rally, the same car and crew coming third in the London to Sydney Marathon Rally.

THE current Classic Adelaide Rally-winning Porsche 911 with owner-driver Kevin Weeks, overall winner in 2008 and 2009, who will be interviewed on the day.

Running through the day will be The Meguiar's Show and Shine that will culminate in the presentation of The Porsche Centre of Adelaide Trophy to the Supreme Champion.

Show bags sponsored by Meguiar's will be given out to the first 250 Porsche cars which park at the reserve.

It is hoped to maintain the tradition of showing a car that has never been seen in Australia and that has a racing provenance second to none.

Also on hand will be sponsor's displays and food and beverage stalls.
