

From Phuket to Raub, the fun never stops

Dear Porschephiles,
In what seemed like a flash, we're already in the middle of 2016. And what a good six months it has been.

We kicked things off last month by attempting to mix a drive with Songkran, a water festival Thailand is known for. It was a five-night trip to Phuket via Hatyai, and it was a great experience with a fishing outing on a boat as a bonus. Dr Rama's initiation and SDAP's support crew for this event were highly appreciated.

Up next was an event with our incoming major sponsor, Petron. There were only 10 spots for us to join their drive to Johor Bahru but it allowed us to catch up with 30 JB members, with Petron allocating six tables for us. We even managed to recruit 10 new members during the dinner at Jen Hotel Puteri Harbour itself. The appearance of an RWB at the dinner made the trip even more worthwhile. Since the media were also invited, a few of us were interviewed, which was great. Our thanks go to Tho Yow Yin for securing Petron as a partner.

After lots of straight-line driving to Johor and back, we indulged in a bit of sideways action in this year's edition of PCM Drift. The last round was so popular that everyone kept bugging us for another one. Unfortunately, we could only accommodate 18 drivers, all of whom were accounted for in 35 minutes. Jonathan led this activity, and it was a blast.

On a less tyre-shredding note, we enjoyed a food excursion to Raub where we dined on 4.5kg red kelah in Sentosa Restaurant, a quaint Malay eatery on stilts. We're certainly looking forward to more casual outings like this.

In the meantime, drive safe Porschephiles.
